RE: web developer | full stack

To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for receiving this letter and my attached resume. I am interested in the advertised Web Developer Intern or Entry Level opportunity & and excited to share my experiences, knowledge, and energy with you as a highly motivated and success-driven candidate.

During my most recent project, I designed and built a full-stack web and mobile e-commerce shoe store—an experience that sharpened my ability to think like both a developer and a customer. I focused on creating a smooth and secure shopping experience, from browsing products to placing an order. I incorporated user login, cart management, and payment processing using Stripe, all while keeping security top of mind. I added safeguards like account protection, login attempt limits, and secure cookie handling to ensure a trustworthy environment for users. What excited me most was making it mobile-friendly and user-focused—every feature was built with the customer's journey in mind. The entire experience challenged me to combine functionality with design, and I'm eager to bring that same energy to a real-world team.

In addition to my technical growth, I've been fortunate to receive strong encouragement from my professors. Dr. Jongho Seol, Assistant Professor of Computer Science at Middle Georgia State University, described me as a dedicated and hardworking student whose persistent effort and positive attitude consistently stood out. That kind of support has helped shape my work ethic and drive to succeed in both academic and real-world settings.

I'm particularly drawn to your company for its innovative environment and the opportunity to grow as a developer while contributing to meaningful projects. While I may not yet have years of professional experience, I bring with me a strong foundation in web development, a proven ability to learn quickly, and a deep passion for building quality software. I approach every challenge with commitment and curiosity, and I'm ready to contribute from day one. You can explore examples of my recent work at <https://andrewjohnson-personal-portfolio-react-js.vercel.app/>. I'd love the opportunity to discuss how I can support your goals and grow with your organization.

Thank you again for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Andrew Johnson
